

Preprogramme

Summer school in Integrative Biology & Ecology

July, 18-24th 2015 in French Pyrénées

MORNINGS TO MEET INTERNATIONAL SPEAKERS

- Richard P. Oliver (Curtin University of Technology - Australia)
- Marc-Andre Selosse (National Museum - France)
- William Vickery (Quebec University at Montréal - Canada)
- Ulf Dieckmann (International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis - Austria)
- Asaph Aharoni (Weizmeim Institute of Research, Israel)

AFTERNOONS TO FOCUS ON WORK GROUP PROJECTS

- Supervised by international and local speakers

EVENINGS TO DISCOVER & DISCUSS LOCAL RESEARCH TOPICS

- Corinne Audran (Genomics and Biology of Fruit)
 - Etienne Danchin (Evolution and Biological Diversity & TULIP coordinator)
 - David Duneau (Evolution and Biological Diversity)
 - Christian Mazars (Plant Sciences)
 - Sylvain Raffaele (Plant-Microorganism Interactions)
 - Dominique Roby (Plant-Microorganism Interactions & TULIP coordinator)
 - Mélanie Roy (Evolution and Biological Diversity),
 - Christophe Thebaud (Evolution and Biological Diversity)
- ...and know more about carrier opportunities

SOME DAYS TO VISIT LOCAL FACILITIES & ATTRACTIONS

- The experimental site of Moulis, with its 3 ha metapopulation cage, greenhouse and the only experimental cave in the world...
- Discover the rare Pyrenean salamander, a small creature that can live for up to hundred years.
- Visit the Auzeville site and its labs, technological platforms, greenhouses...
- ... And a whole day off to go hiking in the French Pyrénées

